PREFACE

The 60th consecutive annual volume of AMERICAN BOOK-PRICES CURRENT records the book sales at auction held in the United States from July 1953 through June 1954. More than 15,000 price records are listed from 102 sales (126 sessions) held by 8 auction houses.

Special emphasis this season was on Western Americana, with no less than five of the sales offering material in quantity and quality. The Western Americana sales were headed by the great collection of W. J. Holliday, sold at Parke-Bernet Galleries, New York. The 1233 lots realized a total of $126,996. Some of the prices of this great sale can be mentioned here. C. Aubrey Angelo's "Sketches of Travel in Oregon and Idaho" (1866), $1,300; M. K. Armstrong's "History and Resources of Dakota, Montana, and Idaho" (1866), $1,100; Charles Foster's "Gold Placers of California" (1849), $875; Freeman & Custis, "An Account of the Red River in Louisiana" [1807], $1,800; Lansford W. Hastings's "The Emigrant's Guide to Oregon & California" (1845), $1,850; Gen'l Thomas James's "Three Years Among the Indians and Mexicans" (1846) $2,600; Zenas Leonard's "Narrative . . ." (1839), $4,600; Prince Maximilian de Wied-Neuwied's "Travels in the Interior of North America" (1843-44), $3,500; James O. Pattie's "Personal Narrative" (1831), $1,350; Granville Stuart's "Montana as it Is" (1865), $2,200. A great document in this sale was the original manuscript Journal of the Overland Trail and Rocky Mountain Region, kept by William Marshall Anderson in 1834-35. It realized $12,000.

Parke-Bernet held other fine special sales during the season. Among these were the Lewis A. Hird collection, entirely by or relating to Charles Dickens; the Sir Francis Rose collection of modern French illustrated books and decorated bindings; Americana and first editions from the collection of Jean Hersholt; and several collections containing excellent reference works and bibliographies, natural history, color plate books, early printed books, etc. Among the manuscripts sold was the second earliest known existing manuscript of the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam [A.D. 1216], which brought $4,500.

PREFACE

Sales at other New York auction houses continued unabated. American Book Auction held 18 sales; City Book Auction held 38 sales; Swann Auction Galleries held 27 sales (29 sessions). All contained standard literature, first editions, Americana, etc. The newly formed Battery Park Book Company, Inc., held one sale, which was made up mainly of books about books, press books, etc.

Samuel T. Freeman & Company, Philadelphia, held one large sale of six sessions. The Lincoln Warehouses, East Orange, N. J., sold the library of the late Carroll Bassett, Summit, N.J. Among the books in this sale were two copies of John Eliot's Indian Bible: a first edition (1663-1661), $3,450, and a second edition (1685-1680), $1,050. In Chicago the Hanzel Galleries dispersed the library of the late Alden Scott Boyer.

This volume follows the pattern of the preceding annual volumes. The numbering of the sales is consecutive, beginning with the 1951 volume. For those not familiar with the use of the book, a full explanation will be found on pages x and xi.

The editor wishes to thank many friends in the trade for help generously given to this work. Special thanks again are due to Mr. Edwin V. Halbmeier, cataloguer for the Swann Auction Galleries, New York, for his diligent work on the final proofs.

Edward Lazare

GUIDE TO USE

Listing of Entries

Arrangement Simple

Anonyma and Pseudonyma

Cross-Index

Press Books

Clear, modern type, the liberal use of spacing, and uniformity in reporting enable the user to locate all entries quickly. The books reported are indexed alphabetically by author in every case possible. Some items are entered by title (when author is not to be found in standard reference works). Subject entries (Costume, States, Trials, etc.) are cross-indexed. Books under headings other than Press Books and Club Publications are arranged alphabetically by title. Press books and Club Publications (with some minor exceptions) are under the name of the issuing Press or Club, arranged by author.

Simple Format

Easy to Read

Uniformity

The main headings, (author, or title, or subject), are in boldface caps and the entries beneath are listed in boldface upper and lower case as follows: (1) Title; (2) Place of Publication, and on some items, Publisher or Printer; (3) Date of Publication. Following in order, in lightface, are: Edition, Size, Binding, Description (defects, limit notices, inscriptions, etc.), and last, the code letter of the auction house, the number of the sale, the catalog number of the lot reported, and the price realized.

Main Entry

"Anr copy"

"Anr Ed"

The main entries are preceded by a one em dash. Duplicate entries of the same work are headed "Anr copy", and set in lightface, so as not to interfere with the main entries. Subsequent editions of the same work are headed "Anr Ed," followed by place of printing and date, all in boldface.

Bindings

Provenance

Binding terms and names of binders are given when necessary to relate price to the entry recorded. Provenance is also recorded to enable users to note recurrences of certain items.

Price Level

All prices recorded are on the even dollar. The dropping of odd penny prices as well as the prices under five dollars was in response to subscribers' wishes. The correctness of this policy has been established by the trade, library, and collecting circles.

Grouping of Like Copies

Comparison of Issue

On duplicate entries, like copies (like as to issue, binding, and condition) are grouped, rather than placed in the order in which sold. Thus, if a fine copy of a work was sold in sale P5, a fair or poor copy of the same title in sale P 10, and yet another fine copy in sale P 15, the order of entry is P5, P 15, and P 10, with descriptions as to the excellence or defects of each.

Comparison of Condition, etc.

Autographs & Mss, Broadsides, & Maps

Autographs and Manuscripts are grouped together in a separate alphabetical index (Part II). This method reduces the confusion that prevails when they are listed in the same alphabet as the books. Broadsides (Part III) and Maps (Part IV), are also placed in separate sections for convenient reference.

Listing of Sales

The Auction houses are arranged in alphabetical order and the sales of each house are arranged in chronological order. The "named" sales of each house are listed in alphabetical order on pages following the List of Season's Sales.

Quick Guide to Sales

Coding of Entries

Each entry is keyed and priced—for example, A2 (15) $10, means: the second sale of American Book Auction, lot number fifteen in the sale catalog, price realized for the lot, ten dollars; P 15 (302) $50, means: the fifteenth sale of Parke-Bernet Galleries, lot number three hundred two in the sale catalog, price realized fifty dollars. The initials of the auction houses are used in the code, and this enables the user to tell at a glance where an item was sold.

Simple Coding

Abbreviations are of the commonest kind. A list of these appears on page xxxi.

Entries Checked

Many errors in the original sales catalogs have been corrected, and all corrections announced by the galleries have been entered. [Reports of any errors which have escaped us will be appreciated by the editor.]

Advertisements

Announcements of leading book dealers will be found in the forepart of the volume. A Classified Guide to specialist book dealers, alphabetically arranged by subjects, follows the records. These dealers are authorities in their fields, and assistance can be obtained from them in acquiring or selling literary material.

WRIGHT HOWES'

U.S.-IANA

A descriptive checklist of Americana
1700 - 1950

The dean of the Chicago rare book trade has expanded his famous pocket notebook into a full-sized, comprehensive guide to books on all aspects of U.S. life. The volume, scheduled for publication in November 1954, in a limited 1500 copy edition, contains approximately 12,000 books printed anywhere and in any language between 1700 and 1950.

Wright Howes has selected titles on the basis of significance, usefulness and commercial value, making this an indispensable reference tool for historians, bibliophiles, librarians, researchers and students. Full bibliographical data accompanies title listings. There is concise information on publication dates, approximate dimensions and collation. Each title is marked with a value symbol indicating its relative rarity. Pamphlets of less than 24 pages have been omitted, for the most part, as have books of purely local interest, and works about insular possessions.

Years of specialized experience and research have gone into the preparation of this volume, completed by Mr. Howes as a Fellow in Bibliography at the Newberry Library, Chicago. The Bowker Company takes pleasure in making this important volume available to the Americanists, collectors, librarians and scholars who, over the years, have felt the need for such a work.

PROOF ENOUGH!

THE MANUSCRIPT SOCIETY

Now has over 700 members, including leading Book and Autograph Dealers, Archives, Historical Societies, College and University Libraries, Public and Private Libraries.

This surely is proof of the professionals' interest in MS. It shows the confidence of the trade in our future and recognition of our important work.

Can any antiquarian bookseller afford to turn aside when there is offered to him the opportunity to broaden his scope? Autographs—whether literary or historical—are so closely allied to books that a collector of one is also a collector of the other.

Dealer memberships cost no more than collector memberships:

Annual: $5 Contributing: $10 Sustaining: $25

All memberships include subscription to

We've made 100,000 changes since last year . . .

What makes BOOKS IN PRINT so useful is the fact that it is completely revised each year—when you find a book in the '54 edition you will know that the publisher shows it as "in print" in his 1954 trade order list; you will know the 1954 price. (This year we reset almost 60,000 entries because of price changes, adding 20,000 new entries and pulling out 20,000 entries for titles that have gone o.p.).

What use has an antiquarian for a copy of BOOKS IN PRINT? We can only tell you what many of them tell us—it's often important to know whether a book is or isn't out-of-print.

Looked at from this point of view, BOOKS IN PRINT contains not only 210,000 entries about 100,000 in-print titles. By inference it'll also tell you something about 600,000 books NOT listed—namely that they're o.p. As you know, BOOKS IN PRINT is an author-title-series index to the trade order lists of over 700 publishers—all but the smallest ones and a good many of those. It's revised annually for publication in October, price $19 net. The 2-volume Publishers' Trade List Annual which it indexes, with over 6000 pages, is $6 net.

Informal Notes on Some Books Banned for Various Reasons at Various Times and in Various Places

BANNED BOOKS

by ANNE LYON HAIGHT

with a new Foreword by MORRIS L. ERNST

Anyone who has ever tried to defend our right to read has needed facts like these. Here, in the 1954 revision of a book first issued in 1935, are the facts on the important books in the history of censorship, from 850 B. C. to the present. Circumstances of suppression and quotations from contemporary comments are among the data listed under each title.

NEW: Reprinted in the appendix are the sections of the Postal Rules and Regulations under which books are or may be barred from the mails, and also the U. S. Customs regulations under which books are or may be refused entrance to the U.S. Also included: the text of the Library Bill of Rights and of the recent "Freedom to Read" statement, and other famous statements or declarations; excerpts from court decisions that have been milestones in the fight against censorship; and notes on book-banning in Nazi Germany, in U.S. overseas libraries, in the comic book and paper-bound book fields, and in the text book field. Price $4. Ready in November. Order from:
